FACTS PROVE IT!

GET THE FACTS ON "ALL 3" LOW-PRICE CARS AND YOU'LL HAVE PROOF PLYMOUTH IS FIRST:

First In Size-By actual measurement, the 1955 Plymouth is the longest car of the low-price 3. (It's even bigger than some medium-price cars.) Plymouth is truly a big car ... 17 feet long!

First in Roominess-Plymouth is also the biggest car inside, with the greatest hip room and leg room. More comfort for you! And Plymouth's trunk, by far the largest in its field, lets you pack everything.

First in Visibility-Comparison proves that Plymouth's glamorous new Full-View windshield -with cornerposts swept back both top and bottom - gives you the greatest visibility of "all 3." First in Beauty-Compare styling and see why Charm, a leading fashion magazine, chose Plymouth "Beauty Buy of the Year." Plymouth's long, sleek Forward Look wins over the hand-medown styling of the "other 2"!

First in Economy-Smoothest and thriftiest engine of all! That's the fast-stepping new 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117. Its Chrome-Sealed Action means extra thousands of trouble-free miles.

First in Riding Comfort-Plymouth gives you the most comfortable ride you ever experienced in a low-price car. Only the biggest car in the lowest-price field can give you a true big-car ride. First In Extra Value-Plymouth gives you many extra-value features that the "other 2" lowprice cars don't have. Come in and let us show you why Plymouth is first for value!

Why pay up to $500 more for a car smaller than Plymouth?

Don't be fooled by the claims of so-called mediumprice cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much, much less than medium-price cars, and gives you more car for your money!

Talked Herself Out

A certain talkative young lady almost spent a night locked in "Doc" White's drugstore.

Hefty Job

She entered Doc's store about 11 PM, going directly to the pay phone. At eleven-thirty Doc went home-not having seen a customer for a half hour. Around midnight he got a call from the store .. she had finally run out of conversation (and money) and found the front door locked tight.

Doc vowed he'd leave her there to teach her a lesson. But Mrs. W. spoke up: "Now you go turn her loose. It's hard to cut a good conversation short - something only a woman understands!"

HOLY COW!

We Thought We'd Heard and Seen Them All But Here's a New One - - -

One of these days soon your phone will ring or there'll come a knock at your door and some slick, silky voice will say, "Can you tell me the favorite color of Red China?" or "Who is Mamie's husband?" You give the right answer, of course, and the oily voice gets excited. "Madam, you have just won in our great nation-wide contest and you are entitled to three beautiful enlargements done by our famous photographer right from Hollywood. When can we photograph you?

So You Are Photographed

And you bump into some guy you never saw before. He flashes his teeth (if he has any). You flash yours, and he snaps the picture.

But, That's Just the Start

You find that the "beyootiful enlargements" are just bait to get something bigger. So you order some additional portraits at two or three times what you could get them for from your home town photographer. After a long wait, they finally arrive. They may be good or they may be bad - but either way, this stranger has your money, and now he's a long ways away running his "quiz" game in some other city. There's no chance to make him accountable for his work.

Like Measles and Bunions and Falling Hair

The itinerant photographer is something that must be put up with, it seems. Trade with him if you must, but remember that he is a stranger - more interested in his welfare than

P.S .- You may not like the way we part our hair, or beat up our wives, or make portraits, but it isn't very far to one of our neighboring towns. You can get a good job done by E. H. Gilkey, at Marshall, Fred English, at Jeff City, Mr. Love, at Warrensburg. They are all good guys, good photographers, pay taxes in their home towns, and you always know where to find them.

FRANKLIN MASTITIS TREATMENT

This treatment is especially formulated for use in treating those stubborn cases of Mastitis that may be caused by organisms not affected by or resistant to usual treatment by Penicillin and Dihydrostreptomycin. The formula offers a wide spectrum of anti-basterial activity against organisms sometimes affecting the udder of dairy cows.

The over-lapping action of the ingredients may be expected to cover most gram-positive and gramnegative organisms likely to be found in udder in

This ointment is loaded with Penicillin, Dihydro streptomycin, Bacitracin Plus Sulfathizole and Sulfamerazine. The base is a special free flowing ointment which maintains its properties through a wide range of temperatures, thus easing administration and aiding in distributing the active ingredients through-

Nicole Poche and Rida Yamlikha, 23, eloped two months ago and hid out for a month with a bedouin tribe after their marriage by a Moslem sheik. Recently they petitioned the court to register the marriage under Syrian law, which permits a girl of 18 to wed without her father's consent.

The father, Rodolph Poche, honorary Dutch consul in Aleppo, op posed their petition and contended that under Dutch law a girl under 30 may not marry without parental

Campus Disapproves Of Refusal to Sign Bill of Rights Paper

NEW YORK (P)-The Columbia University president's refusal to sign a student petition to reaffirm faith in the Bill of Rights has caused a campus controversy. Dr. Grayson Kirk declined sign the petition circulated on the campus as part of observation of Academic Freedom Week, starting today, saying it was an "empty and gratuitous" act. Kirk said "it should be assumed that any American of intelligence, common sense and devotion to our American way of life believes sin cerely in the provisions of the Bill

Commenting editorially on Kirk's action, "The Spectator," campus daily newspaper, said the president's explanation for not signing the petition was "unconvincing. The Spectator said affirmation of the Bill of Rights is no more gratuitous than the university's celebration last year of its bicentennial on the theme "man's right to knowledge and the free use thereof."

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (P) - A Canadian has written to the Great Falls justice of the peace who performed his marriage ceremony in 1944 that he wants the justice to untie the knot.

The man wrote from Fort Qu'Ap pelle, Sask., that his wife is living with another man. Justice John A. Isaacson wrote back that he could not untie the marital knot and advised that an attorney be consulted.

House Okays Commission Restrictions

JEFFERSON CITY (P) - With scanty opposition, the House yesterday approved clamping down on the State Conservation Commission by telling that agency what it can spend for what purposes.

Rep. Walter T. Bollinger, Jr. (D) of Carter County said it was time some such idea was approved by the legislature and the people to prove to the agency it is not as all powerful as it thinks.

Under the proposal, still requiring passage by both houses and approval by the voters, the legislature would appropriate the commission's money. Now the commission has virtually complete control of all the funds it collects from fishing and hunting licenses, from special fees and from federal conservation aid.

New Slant For Pancake Day...

Pancake Days sponsored by Sedalia organizations in the past have become something of an institution locally. From time to time a few additional frills have been added for variety and to stir up enthusiasm over an event that in the main is a tedious job for the participants. Anyone who thinks there isn't work to putting on a pancake day never witnessed the following Saturday. They are deterthe preliminaries nor the sticky dishwashing finales.

So pancake days have come and gone though.

has decided there can be glamour to a pancake day. Not content with the normal terrific work load of putting on such an to get under cover. event, they have enlisted the aid of the tional Guard division here for table Patrol takes the cake.

equipment, field kitchens and colorful displays of an educational nature to go along with the pancakes, coffee and sausage. And they propose to stage the event out of doors on the Mike O'Connor lot downtown. This is a challenge to the weather man, but the CAP is undaunted. Come rain this Saturday, they say, the event will merely be postponed until April 30, mined to have a whiz-bang pancake day regardless of the elements.

One thing is certain — postponement in sort of routine fashion-always popular cannot be too far into the warm days of spring else there's sure to be fly trouble But Sedalia's Civil Air Patrol squadron out of doors. Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D., Ky.) delivered his five round trips a year to their home states. maiden speech as a freshman senator the other day.

For the former "Veep" to have said nothing for nearly two months was in itself something of a record. The usually jovial Kentuckian admitted that he wasn't very happy.

"I regret that my first utterance in the Senate since my return to it should revolve around a raise in salary for members of Congress," he began. He then went on to state his opposition to that part of the bill which would give congressmen expenses for

"It might well constitute a temptation for more absenteeism in the Senate," exclaimed Barkley. "I believe that would be deplorable.

Corsi Had 'Texas Cop' Tagging Him

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON - Ed Corsi, the immigration expert ousted for being too enthusiastic about his job, had a "shadow" planted on his trail by Scott Mc-Leod, the man chiefly responsible for his ouster.

When Corsi went to Europe to survey refugee conditions, a security policeman named Roy Wade, whom Corsi describes as a "Texas cop," was assigned to accompany him, presumably as an assist-

"I soon learned that Wade was actually shadowing me everywhere I went," Corsi recalls. "Every night Wade would write reports to McLeod on my comings and goings and the people I talked to, as well as what I said to them."

At first Corsi was amused. But the private-eye business became irritating when Wade started censoring his conversations. On such occasions Wade would strike a mysterious pose, hand to his mouth. and whisper: "You can't talk about that. It's classified."

While in West Germany, the detective interrupted Corsi with the admonition: "Please, Mr. Corsi, you are discussing State Department secrets!"

"This practically fractured me," recalls Corsi, "because the people I was talking to just happened to be representatives of the State Department." The payoff occurred when Corsi took a first hand look at living standards in Red-controlled East

"I headed for the shoe counter in an East Berlin department store because shoes are the key to living standards," explains Corsi. "In the United States, an average worker can buy a pair of shoes for a day's wages and have something left over. Behind the Iron Curtain, it takes about eight days' wages to buy a pair of shoes."

After looking over the shoes in the East Berlin store, Corsi commented: "In the United States, these shoes would be discards-third-rate stuff."

Suddenly his companion went into his hand-tomouth routine: "Please don't say anything like that," he whispered excitedly. "Don't you realize that we're surrounded by spies? You might create an international incident!'

This was more than Corsi could take.

"I was wrong," he announced in a loud voice. "These shoes aren't third-rate by American standards. They're fourth-rate."

Rayburn-Go-Round A group of Texas legislators had their way paid to the Sam Rayburn dinner by the "third house of Texas government" - the lobbyists. . . . Clyde Bell, venerable elevator operator at the Mayflower, greeted Harry Truman with: "The Republicans came here with one shirt and one dollar bill and they haven't changed either one of 'em since." . . . Mrs. Fred Vinson, widow of the late great Chief Justice, greeted Mrs. Truman with: "Do you mind if I kiss your husband?" . . . Judge Thurman Arnold razzing State Department over firing Ed Corsi who campaigned for Secretary Dulles for the Senate: "Isn't it nice that you have a Secretary of State who will turn his back on a friend?" . . . (Dean Acheson made a remark which the Republicans never forgot that he "wouldn't turn his back on Alger Hiss.") . . . A friend greeted Congressman Francis Walter of Pennsylvania who wanted Corsi fired: "You'll have to sing Santa Lucia all over your district to get re-elected." . . .
